

sarod by avi

instrument

The Sarod; one of the most capturing stringed instruments from India. It is known for its deep, weighty, introspective sounds. The origins of the sarod go back almost 15 centuries to the Persian rabab. Sarod, meaning “beautiful melody” in Farsi, came to its current form about 450 years ago.

music

With a strong foundation in Indian Classical Music Avi's musicality was also influenced by various genres and artforms. He created a fresh sound with a blend of ancient flavours.

His music is known for very intuitive melodies combined with refined technique, that show off his talent and virtuosity. He can instantly catch the mood of the moment and take you into his own world.

artist

Avi Kishna is a sarod player, multi-instrumentalist and music producer born in Suriname, living and working in Amsterdam.

He has a diverse, creative background which encompasses learning piano, cello, Western and Indian classical music and theatre.

Avi learned to play the sarod from his Guru Koustuv Ray (SKVR teacher, Muziekschool Amsterdam, CODARTS) with whom he also performed and produced music. At 16 years old, he was the youngest student at the Rotterdam Conservatory (CODARTS) in Indian Classical Music. Ray passed away in 2017, Avi received the honor of curating Ray's sarod and keeping his music alive.

testimonials

"Avi combines the sound of our heritage with intriguing glimpses of our present and future, all through his mastery of the Sarod and his emotional approach of the music of the ages..."

shailesh bahoran
- choreographer -

"His music brings you back inwards, the sound of the Sarod contains something magical. An instrument that tickles your internal dialogue and pushes you towards new perceptions..."

mara michels
- pr & radio host -

"Avi's mastery of Sarod is pure and pristine. His modern compositions layering the Sarod with electronic grooves are sublime. I love his music and can't wait for the next release."

simon rowe
- yoga teacher -

contact

Bookings & Interviews

bookings@imperceptibleart.eu

General enquiries

info@imperceptibleart.eu

+31615552619

@sarodbyavi

@imperceptibleart

sarodbyavi.com

imperceptibleart.eu

photocredits: heleen duli, jurgen van buuren, sam van den nieuwenhof, tess janssen

